

Launched – 2012 Mitsubishi Cedia Select in India, OverDrive, July 12

Hindustan Motors have launched the 2012 Mitsubishi Cedia Select in India. The car is priced at Rs 8.90 lakh, ex-Delhi. The changes in the car include a 7-inch MapmyIndia android-based carpad, which other than helping with navigation, also has facility for checking emails as also making and receiving calls. This particular tablet can also be used to play games. The Cedia Select also gets a rear-view camera which also doubles as the output of the audio unit. The exteriors now have clear lens halogen headlamps, 12-spoke alloy wheels and horizontal-slat matte black grill.

The new Cedia continues with the tried and tested 115PS 2.0-litre petrol engine. The interiors also boast of two-tone beige upholstery with oyster leather seats and climate control AC. Safety-wise, it has twin airbags.
