

The Best Young Couple's Car

Honda Civic

WHY WE CHOSE IT: This is the perfect car for the PlayStation generation with its large LED speed display and its blue-backlit dials and controls. Though this car has definitely lost some of its exclusivity in major cities, it is still a fantastic car to drive. And if you do take friends out for a drive, the Civic also has a lot of interior space. We would suggest you buy the manual version instead of the tiptronic automatic version, because you get more of a feel with this version.

THE PRICE: 1.8V (Manual), Rs 12.5 lakh*

THE CHALLENGERS

Toyota Corolla (1),

Mitsubishi Lancer Cedia (2)

The Corolla well might see a model change in 2008, which would be good since the old model is a bit stodgy to look at, but make no mistake with Toyota's legendary build quality. This is a reliable car to drive to work in the morning and go partying at night. The Cedia is definitely the most fun car of the three to drive, coming with the biggest engine, but the interiors are not as cool as the Civic.
